

THE SUPER-SIX UNCHALLENGED.

"The man who does not consider the resale value of his car when he buys it is overlooking one of the most important points of his purchase."

This was the remark of a Super-Six owner who has driven three Hudsons during the past ten years. "Nothing shows the quality of a car better than the price it will bring after several years of service," he added.

Therefore it is notable that Hudson cars have a higher resale value than any other fine automobile on the market. To prove this look in the want ad column of your newspaper today. Notice how few, if any, Hudsons are offered for sale and then notice the prices that are obtained for used Super-Sixes.

The reason is the superior endurance of the car itself. The patented motor which can be obtained only in a Super-Six not only increases the power 72 percent without any increase in weight or the sacrifice of simplicity, but it minimizes destructive vibration and thus lengthens the life of the car beyond anything previously known.

Greater power means more wonderful performance while the fact that it is obtained without any increase in weight means the greatest possible economy of gasoline and tires. Simplicity means greater reliability. All together these things spell the satisfaction that more than 70,000 owners have found in their Super Sixes.

In the face of the greatly increased demand, the only way to avoid disappointment in the delivery of your car is to order now as our allotment is strictly limited and the present shortage is bound to continue well into next year.

THE ESSEX HAS MADE GOOD.

Quality in an automobile cannot be seen. It must be experienced through satisfaction in use. In buying a car, therefore, your first question should be, "What will it do?"

One evidence of quality, which simply means better workmanship, finer materials and more advanced design, is performance. The inherent quality of the Essex is such that it has proved its ability to outperform cars costing nearly twice as much.

Because of the exclusive principles used in its construction for minimizing destructive vibration, the Essex motor develops more power in comparison to its size and weight than any other automobile motor ever built. Although only 29 1-2 inches in length, over all, this motor develops more than 56 horsepower.

The result is the smooth flexibility and lightening-like pick-up that has amazed the automobile world. The proof of the Essex lies in an actual test. Only by riding in it yourself can you appreciate its wonderful ability. Therefore, won't you let us show you what the Essex can do? We will gladly place it at your disposal at any hour you name.

MESOPOTAMIA TO 'COME BACK'

Prophecy That Ancient Land Is to Be Redeemed From Present State of Barrenness.

It may be remembered that, when Gen. Sir Stanley Maude had to lay down his work with his life in Mesopotamia, that work was taken up and carried on successfully by Gen. Sir W. R. Marshall. The expedition which he sent up the Euphrates freed that river from the Turks, and just before the armistice the force which he led up the Tigris from Bagdad captured the entire Turkish army of 7,000 about 50 miles south of Mosul, the city which stands on the west bank opposite the ruins of Nineveh. Since then the country has had peace, and all the way north and west from Basra there has been a notable revival of commerce and agriculture, with a beginning of the great irrigation scheme devised by Sir William Willcocks. It was through irrigation that in ancient times the land developed its extraordinary fertility, and traces remain of the network of canals that formed the center of Babylonian life.

Is there to be a renewal of that fertility in place of the desert barrenness produced by Turkish neglect and misadministration? General Marshall, who has returned to England, is of that opinion. Speaking recently at Durham he made one very remarkable statement. As a result of experiments, he said, it was believed that Mesopotamia would become the finest cotton-growing country in the world. That is a large expectation, too large to disturb cotton growers in other countries. Details of the experiments, showing surprising results, will have to be made known before the "sea island" territory of Georgia, South Carolina and Florida can believe that its supremacy is threatened by Mesopotamia, or that the beautiful long-stapled silky wool of its peculiar variety can be excelled anywhere.

AZORES AT A STANDSTILL

Population Has Shown Little Change in Last Century—Lost Trade in Sugar and Tobacco.

The population of the Azores is about 245,000, the number of inhabitants having changed but little in the last century, and, if anything, having diminished. This fact is probably due more to various political and social conditions than to climatic, agricultural, or other conditions of the islands. In the early days the Portuguese literally "raised cane" on the islands, and established a large sugar trade with England and other countries. Tobacco and fruits were also produced in great quantities, but, with the discovery and settlement of Brazil and other South American countries, Portugal rather discouraged production in the Azores in order to add her colonies in South America. With the sugar and tobacco trade snatched from them, the Azoreans began the cultivation of the vine, and the making of wine and other liquors became one of the chief industries of the islands. The population consists mainly of Portuguese, Moorish, and Flemish settlers, with a few negroes and a fair sprinkling of English settlers.

LADY OVERCOMES USE OF MORPHINE.

"Troubled about ten years with what the doctors called gall stones, often I thought that I would die before the doctor could get here, when he would give me hypodermic of morphine and advise an operation. A neighbor told me about May's Wonderful Remedy for stomach trouble, and since taking the first dose 2 years ago I have not had an attack nor needed a hypodermic." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

$50,000 SAVED

To borrow 50,000 customers will patronize the PIGGLY WIGGLY in more than 100 cities.

If each of these customers could have their purchases delivered it would cost $50,000.00.

The United States Department of Commerce has found by investigation that it costs an average of 10 cents to make each delivery. Secretary Redfield says that the annual charge for cartage is probably far above the total of railway freight charges.

There is no such thing as FREE DELIVERY. Every customer pays his proportion for FREE DELIVERY, just as every customer contributes his proportion to a BAD DEBT account when goods are sold on credit.

The definition of the word "camouflage" is: A covering of any kind to hide or deceive. FREE DELIVERY is camouflage.
